COMMUNITY CONVERSATION

Highlights Path Forward for Mental Health and ALICE Families in Citrus County

The Citrus County Chamber of Commerce, in partnership with the United Way of Citrus County, hosted a powerful Community Conversation last week that brought together local leaders, service providers, and advocates to tackle some of the most pressing issues facing Citrus County—mental health access, support for ALICE families, and the importance of continued collaboration across sectors.

“This was more than just a check-in—it was a moment to be honest about the barriers that still exist and talk through how we can move forward together,” said Chamber President/CEO Josh Wooten.

“We know the needs are great, but we also know the commitment of this community is even greater.”

The Chamber of Commerce thanks all who attended and contributed to this important initiative. Together, we’re building a more resilient, supportive Citrus County—one conversation at a time.
