

New Executive Order to Help Reemployment Application Process

Last evening, Governor Ron DeSantis issued Executive Order 20-93 that is designed to provide the Department of Economic Opportunity with additional assistance to help speed up the handling of the overwhelming flood of reemployment applications they have been receiving. A copy is available here.

The Order provides that personnel from other State agencies will be assigned to assist call center operations and other citizen services. DEO has been directed to add technology as needed to accommodate the increasing volume.

Additionally, in addition to internet and telephone reemployment applications, DEO will add downloadable applications on their website and have paper applications at the local CareerSource offices.

As we learn more about how these new procedures are added and when applications will be available at CareerSource offices, we will send updates and post it on the Chamber website, www.CitrusCountyChamber.com.
